

Decoding Skill # 1

- Marking the words from left to right, Mark everything under the word.
- Look at the first vowel and determine how many consonants follow it.
- If there is only one, that consonant will move to the next syllable.
- The syllable break will be between the vowel and the consonant. And every syllable must have a working vowel.
- Now apply the Five Phonetic Skills to decode each syllable separately.
- At this point, guardians are no longer marked.

Pupil

MARKED EXAMPLE

When a vowel is followed by just one consonant, that consonant must go forward and join with the next vowel. (one guardian goes on)